CELEBRITIES RISK ALL FOR LAUGHS AND A GOOD CAUSE! Celebrity Theatresports Sat 21 July Enmore Theatre

See Aussie celebrities as you've never seen them before when Celebrity Theatresports raises laughs for a good cause on July 21 at the Enmore Theatre.

The best comic improvisers in the country join your favourite celebrities from TV, film and sport creating live comedy scenes from your suggestions. And at the same time you'll be helping raise money for CanTeen, the Australian organisation for young people living with cancer.

Fun-raising, fund-raising!

Celebrities who have already thrown their comedy hats into the ring include: Deal or No Deal's Andrew O'Keefe, The Chaser's Craig Reucassel, 702-ABC's Adam Spencer and Silver Logie Award Winner Rob Carlton. All are champion Theatresports alumni, invited back for the occasion. And there are more to come!

Their all-star impro comic team-mates include Carlo Ritchie, Dave Callan, Jon Williams, Susie Youssef, Lisa Ricketts, Bridie Connell, Monique Dykstra and Cale Bain, with musical improvising maestro Bryce Halliday on keys. Directing is Rebecca De Unamuno, Cale Bain producer.

Celebrity Theatresports® happens just once a year! Just like channel Seven's Thank God You're Here and the Comedy Channel's Whose Line Is It Anyway? this is hilarious, fast-paced comedy with no scripts... and anything can happen!

See the panic, smell the fear, laugh 'til it hurts and help raise money for a great cause!

NB The entire proceeds of our Monster Raffle and a portion of ticket sales will be donated to CanTeen.
